Royal Wedding weather forecast

28 April 2011 - The Royal Wedding of HRH Prince William and Catherine Middleton will be celebrated in London and throughout the country on Friday.

The weather will play its part in the big day and the latest Royal Wedding forecast is for a mixture of sunshine and showers.

Andy Page, Chief Forecaster at the Met Office, said: "After a cloudy start to the day, with a 10% chance of a shower, we should see some sunny spells developing over London during the morning. The chance of a shower increases to 30% for the London area around lunchtime as temperatures reach 17 Celsius".

Elsewhere across the country there is the risk of heavy showers, some thundery, breaking out in the afternoon. So anyone holding street parties and other outdoor celebrations should keep up to date with our latest weather forecast.

See our latest forecast on the Met Office YouTube channel .

Contact information

Met Office Press Office: +44 (0)1392 886655

E-mail: Press Office

Met Office Customer Centre: 01392 885680

If you're outside the UK: +44 1392 885680

Last updated: 25 August 2012